15 May

I received a note from a friend of mine in India, after asking her how the current national India elections are going. She replied, "Elections and voting in India is a marathon process. Voting is happening in phases: it started on 26 April and will end on 30 May 30 and the results/counting on 4 June. The government is all corrupt and the uneducated prime minister is always spreading communal hatred between Hindus, Muslims, etc., which was never the case, but this government for the past 10 years has ruined India."

In KU#134/29 April I posted the article titled, "A White Horse Covered In Red Blood Up To The Bridle Just Went Rampaging Through The Streets Of London", and now, in less than a month, this red monstrosity surfaces! Are you picking up heaps of symbolism off of it as well?—And not just the red stuff!—Also the butterfly imagery, which some are saying represents Monarch Programming, aka mind control. Imo, this is, yet another, red-red-with-warning billboard! "Creepy" hardly even begins to describe what I feel when I see that pAInting! In doing some further research into the word "red", I read this:*

"The Greek word John [the disciple, who received the Book of Revelation] uses for 'red' is purros or pyrros, meaning 'the color of fire' (compare our words 'pyre', 'pyromania', 'pyrosis'). This is not the normal Greek word for red (eruthros), but a more specialized term that suggests fieryness or flickering reds, oranges, and yellows, like a flame. It is the same word that John uses to describe the redness of the Dragon (Satan) in Revelation 12:3 (the third and only other occurrence is in a proper name, Sopatros Purrou, which is, strangely, not fully translated in Acts 20:4). This particular color intimates heat and ferocity, like an out-of-control wildfire." (Source —

From IoB (Internet of Bodies), to IoT (Internet of Things), to IoA (Internet of Animals), (excerpts:) "What [these] heretical [fiends forget] is that the essence of Christianity lies not in the manipulation of matter and the pursuit of earthly immortality, but seeking after Christ and His kingdom — a kingdom 'not of this world'. Yet, blinded by [their] techno-utopian idolatry, [they dare] to equate the resurrection of the body with the uploading of our consciousness into silicon substrates, a sacrilege that mocks the sacrifice of Christ and proves the falsity of his profession of faith. The hubris of these techno-prophets knows no bounds as they seek to more fully merge mankind with machines...Just as God confounded the tongues of those who dared challenge His eternal sovereignty, so too shall the relentless march of transhumanist ambition stumble and fall upon the jagged shards of their own delusions. My son, let not ungodly men lead thee astray, neither consent thou to them. If they should exhort thee, saying, 'Come with us, partake in blood, and let us unjustly hide the just man in the earth: and let us swallow him alive, as Hades* would, and remove the memorial of him from the earth: let us seize on his valuable property, and let us fill our houses with spoils: but do thou cast in thy lot with us, and let us all provide a common purse, and let us have one pouch': go not in the way with them, but turn aside thy foot from their paths: For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood. For nets are not without cause spread for birds. For they that are concerned in murder store up evils for themselves; and the overthrow of transgressors is evil. These are the ways of all that perform lawless deeds; for by ungodliness they destroy their own life." (Pro.1:10-19 Septuagint [verse 16 is KJV])

"Matthew Henry's Concise Commentary" on the above passage:

"1:10-19 Wicked people are zealous in seducing others into the paths of the destroyer: sinners love company in sin. But they have so much the more to answer for. How cautious young people should be! Consent thou not. Do not say as they say, nor do as they do, or would have thee to do; have no fellowship with them. Who could think that it should be a pleasure to one man to destroy another! See their idea of worldly wealth; but it is neither substance, nor precious. It is the ruinous mistake of thousands, that they overvalue the wealth of this world. Men promise themselves in vain that sin will turn to their advantage. The way of sin is down-hill; men cannot stop themselves. Would young people shun temporal and eternal ruin, let them refuse to take one step in these destructive paths. Men's greediness of gain hurries them upon practices which will not suffer them or others to live out half their days. What is a man profited, though he gain the world, if he lose his life? much less if he lose his soul?"

(Excerpt:) "The media always does this; they always lay the groundwork and carefully lay out the traps for the narrative they want to push, so when it shifts into high gear the masses will be primed to accept it. It's called predictive programming. 'Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also? For it is written in the law of Moses, 'Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn.' Doth God take care for oxen? Or saith He it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope. (1Corinthians 9:7-10). Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils; speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron; forbidding to marry, and commanding [By the WHO?] to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth. experience abroad...Many liberal tycoons essentially no longer belong to Russia; their desire to keep their assets in the West has ended up separating them from their native country. Those who stayed in Russia know that yachts in the Med, villas on the Cote d'Azur, and mansions in London are no longer available to them, or at least no longer safe to keep. Within Russia, a new model of a mid-level businessperson is emerging: one who combines money with social engagement...who builds his/her future inside the country...based on the model of a family...Most of the current incumbents in the top places are in their early 70s. Within the next six to ten years these positions will go to younger people. Ensuring that Putin's legacy lives on is a major task for the Kremlin.":

*now Fico is shot on 15 May! The Slovakian PM has been a thorn in the side of the EU's pro-Ukraine push, repeatedly criticised NATO and Western policy on Ukraine, warning that Kiev's entry into the alliance could result in WWII. Is this assassination attempt payback because Fico vowed to and did halt all arms deliveries to Ukraine when he was elected PM? Fico has previously urged Ukraine to accept the referendum results in Crimea and the Donbass regions. Known as one of the most fierce anti-globalist leaders in Europe, Fico has consistently called for an end to the war in Ukraine, and in recent months has provided staunch opposition to the WHO Pandemic Treaty, playing a leading role in stopping the globalist organization from forcing through the legislation. The Slovakian prime minister also angered the WEF when he ordered an investigation into the COVID-19 response and mRNA vaccine roll out. The assassin, Juraj Cintula, is an operative of "Progressive Slovakia". He is also the founder of the "Rainbow Literary Club". Juraj Cintula is a 71-year-old civilian. Was he capable of planning an assassination by himself? How was it possible for him to penetrate the state leader's security and get to the right place at the right time? Did he get any help or money? If so, from whom? What are the interests whom Mr. Cintula served? Slovakia's state-level investigation into COVID, possibly the only honest country-level inquiry, will now likely be "postponed".

- "The Wickedness of the Pre-Flood World"

(Excerpts:) "God specifically mentions the world before the flood as being full of violence. This violence was the natural consequence of sin. Human nature during this time was motivated by evil and brutality. (Bible quotations from NKJV).

(Genesis 6:5-7, 11-13) 'Then the Lord saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every intent of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually. And the Lord was sorry that He had made man on the earth, and He was grieved in His heart. So the Lord said, "I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth, both man and beast, creeping thing and birds of the air, for I am sorry that I have made them." The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence. So God looked upon the earth, and indeed it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted their way on the earth. And God said to Noah, "The end of all flesh has come before Me, for the earth is filled with violence through them; and behold, I will destroy them with the earth.” During this time period, man was dominated by evil. The world had become filled with brutality and had become corrupted. This pursuit of ungodly purposes, violence and corruption had consequences. These consequences would be manifested in the lifestyle and actions that would be part of everyday life. This would affect [what] was eaten, the marriages that would occur, and the relationships humanity would have with each other, to name but a few. Mankind’s intent and mind would be set on the pursuit of wrong values. Unfortunately, the fossil record does not preserve the intentions and thoughts of the mind and heart, [but it] does, however, preserve enough to show us that the Biblical record is correct and that men were violent and corrupt. This article will highlight some of the evidence in the fossil record that supports the Biblical contention that men were morally bankrupt.”:

(Excerpts:) "The understanding of weather manipulation as a weapon is becoming more evident. The idea that a hostile nation could use such technology to carry out a covert assassination is not beyond the realm of possibility...Just days before the tragic incident, Raisi had announced a groundbreaking deal with India regarding the Chabahar Port. This strategic move would grant India access to landlocked Afghanistan and Central Asia, bypassing its rival Pakistan. This agreement, met with warnings of potential sanctions from the United States, signaled Iran's willingness to challenge the existing power dynamics in the region. The timing of Raisi's death becomes even more peculiar when considering the recent announcement by Iranian Ambassador to Russia, Kazem Jalali, about the collaboration between Iran and Russia on creating a single currency for the BRICS bloc. This move, aimed at reducing the dominance of the U.S. dollar in international trade, could have far-reaching implications for the global financial system. The fact that Raisi's helicopter crashed just days and hours after these significant announcements raises questions about the possibility of foul play, as the late president's actions were clearly challenging the interests of major global powers.":

While he was still alive, author Tom Horn made the following observation, 'Why the Vatican has taken this carefully designed and deliberate course over the last few years is the greater mystery, but implies knowledge on their part of facts yet hidden to most of the world that may hold far-reaching and historic implications. It also illustrates how Rome has wittingly or unwittingly set itself up to become the agent of mass end-times deception regarding "salvation from above". That's because, historically, there exists a clear pattern wherein man's psychological need of a savior is displayed during times of distress—a time like today—when people look skyward for divine intervention.'
