Here, in the 18th installment of our study from the "The Lost Books of Adam and Eve", on the degrees and depths of deception Satan tried in order to tease, lure, deceive, beguile, seduce, distract, scare, manipulate, and even kill Adam and Eve, Satan disguises himself with an attire and accompanying props that appear to pull out all the stops!—And spins a syrupy-sweet speech that hits its target: winning the trust of Adam and Eve!—Again!

Chapter 60 - The Devil's dramatic disguise.

already twice before."

- 1 Then on the eighty-ninth day, Satan came to the cave, clad in a garment of light, and girt about with a bright girdle.
- 2 In his hands was a staff of light, and he looked most awful: but his face was pleasant and his speech was sweet,
- 3 He thus transformed himself in order to deceive Adam and Eve, and to make them come out of the cave, ere they had fulfilled the forty days. [God had commanded them to fast and pray in the cave for a prescribed amount of days.] 4 For he said within himself, "Now that when they had fulfilled the forty days' fasting and praying, God would restore them to their former estate; but if He did not do so, He would still be favourable to them; and even if He had not mercy on them, would He yet give them something from the garden to comfort them; as
- 5 Then Satan drew near the cave in this fair appearance, and said: [Let's listen very carefully to this boldfaced lie that Satan surreptitiously slathers upon Adam

- and Eve! Note how he lies about how they were created and more—much more!! Even saying he's going to protect them from Satan!!—And that Adam and Eve are his offspring!]
- 6 "O Adam, rise ye, stand up, thou and Eve, and come along with me, to a good land; and fear not. I am flesh and bones like you; and at first I was a creature that God created.
- 7 And it was so that when He had created me, He placed me in a garden in the north, on the border of the world.
- 8 And He said to me, 'Abide here!' And I abode there according to His Word, neither did I transgress His commandment.
- 9 Then He made a slumber to come over me, and He brought thee, O Adam, out of my side, but did not make thee abide by me.
- 10 But God took thee in His divine hand, and placed thee in a garden to the eastward.
- 11 Then I grieved because of thee, for that while God had taken thee out of my side, He had not let thee abide with me.
- 12 But God said unto me: 'Grieve not because of Adam, whom I brought out of thy side; no harm will come to him.
- 13 For now I have brought out of his side a help-meet for him; and I have given him joy by so doing."
- 14 Then Satan said again, "I did not know how it is ye are in this cave, nor anything about this trial that has come upon you, until God said to me, 'Behold, Adam has transgressed, he whom I had taken out of thy side, and Eve also, whom I took out of his side; and I have driven them out of the garden; I have made them dwell in a land of sorrow and misery, because they transgressed against Me, and have hearkened to Satan. And lo, they are in suffering unto this day, the eightieth.'
- 15 Then God said unto me, 'Arise, go to them, and make them come to thy place, and suffer not that Satan come near them, and afflict them. For they are now in great misery; and lie helpless from hunger.'
- 16 He further said to me, 'When thou hast taken them to thyself, give them to eat of the fruit of the Tree of Life, and give them to drink of the water of peace; and clothe them in a garment of light, and restore them to their former state of grace, and leave them not in misery, for they came from thee. But grieve not over them, nor repent of that which has come upon them.'
- 17 But when I heard this, I was sorry; and my heart could not patiently bear it for thy sake, O my child.

- 18 But, O Adam, when I heard the name of Satan, I was afraid, and I said within myself, 'I will not come out, lest he ensnare me, as he did my children, Adam and Eve.'
- 19 And I said, 'O God, when I go to my children, Satan will meet me in the way, and war against me, as he did against them.'
- 20 Then God said unto me, 'Fear not; when thou findest him, smite him with the staff that is in thine hand, and be not afraid of him for thou art of old standing, and he shall not prevail against thee.'
- 21 Then I said, 'O my Lord, I am old, and cannot go. Send Thy angels to bring them.'
- 22 But God said unto me, 'Angels, verily, are not like them; and they will not consent to come with them. But I have chosen thee, because they are thy offspring, and like thee, and will hearken to what thou sayest.'
- 23 God said further to me, 'If thou hast not strength to walk, I will send a cloud to carry thee and alight thee at the entrance of their cave; then the cloud will return and leave thee there.
- 24 And if they will come with thee, I will send a cloud to carry thee and them.'
- 25 Then He commanded a cloud, and it bare me up and brought me to you; and then went back.
- 26 And now O my children, Adam and Eve, look at my hoar hairs and at my feeble estate, and at my coming from that distant place. Come, come with me, to a place of rest."
- 27 Then he began to weep and to sob before Adam and Eve, and his tears poured upon the earth like water. [OMG! Can you believe the drama here? What a sordid sight this must have been! What unfathomable filthy trickery!]
 28 And when Adam and Eve raised their eyes and saw his beard, and heard his sweet talk, their hearts softened towards him; they hearkened unto him, for they believed he was true.
- 29 And it seemed to them that they really were his offspring, when they saw that his face was like their own; and they trusted him. [I've bolded this line because Adam and Eve have now fallen for Satan's most boldfaced lie that he's cunningly conjured up thus far!—And through his evil, deceptive physical-and-vocal intricacies, he's stolen their trust in God!]

The above satanic spectacle brings so, so, so many Scriptures come to mind that have been given to us by God, our True Creator and True Love, but I will end this chapter with this one passage, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths." (Proverbs 3:5-6) So, where to now for Adam and Eve?

- While Americans were distracted by the "threat" from Russia/China/Iran, Trump quietly expanded the US's domestic surveillance infrastructure. Ostensibly, to "keep America safe".

"Trump's FBI inks contract to vastly expand and centralize its biometric surveillance and data-collection capabilities - Will pay defense contractor $128 million a year to upgrade the system, but don't worry, it's all to 'keep America safe'"

(Excerpts:) "It is the most expansive biometric identity system in the world, encompassing multimodal data inputs including facial recognition, palm prints, iris scans, voice data, scars and tattoos, and, increasingly, behavioral biometrics...This contract comes on the heels of another awarded to Leidos in May worth $130 million over five years to support the FBI's Fingerprint Analysis Support Team Biometric Services program...This is more of the beast system developing at warp speed before our very eyes. Putting this type of tech in the hands of a notoriously corrupt and, in my opinion, unconstitutional agency, is unconscionable. Much more than a work tool, they want the technology to fully merge with humans on a personal, emotional, and even sexual level. Here's how AI is tapping into our vulnerabilities to fully embed itself in human existence." (Excerpts:) "The rise of artificial intelligence in recent years has been nothing less than astonishing...most of us still cannot grasp its mind-blowing potential and implications...AI is already deeply embedded in the lives of countless people and businesses... Younger people are already on board. Since they're growing up with it, they are less likely to question AI's apocalyptic dangers to humanity—it is simply part of their lives. For proof, just observe teenagers instinctively turn to ChatGPT as soon as a question pops into their minds...to 'get out of thinking'...[Elon Musk's] company Grok is pioneering features that aim to turn lonely people into AI addicts. In order for AI to fully merge with humanity, it must go beyond being a work tool. It must form a primal, emotional, and even sexual bond with humans. For this reason, AI companies are gearing their technology to tap into humans' primal needs and animal instincts. They want their tech to provide comfort, simulate friendship, even arouse sexual desire. Once this powerful bond is formed and feel-good hormones are released in the body, Al becomes more than a tool – it becomes an addiction. To some, Al becomes a whole person whose loss would be devastating. Here's how Al giants are breaking down barriers to see their technology fully merge with humanity...The global elite has big plans for Al. They want it to merge with numerous aspects of humanity, whether it be art, work, relationships, or even sexuality. While there is resistance to Al, barriers are being torn down by targeting human weaknesses. Think about it: Millions of people are feeding Al their deepest fears and insecurities on a daily basis. - Former Israeli attorney general Michael Ben-Yair confirms that Israel is committing genocide in Gaza. His comments align with a growing number of former Israeli officials who have publicly criticised Netanyahu's campaign in Gaza.

"Former Israeli attorney general says Israel committing genocide in Gaza - Michael Ben-Yair says it's a shame that Jews who suffered genocide 80 years ago are now committing it in Gaza."

(Excerpts:) "Former Israeli attorney general Michael Ben-Yair said that Israel is committing genocide against Palestinians in the Gaza Strip. 'Jews, who went through a genocide 80 years ago, are committing genocide in Gaza...Shame, rage and sorrow', he added. His comment was a caption to a news report by Haaretz on two leading Israeli human rights organisations, B'Tselem and

Physicians for Human Rights-Israel (PHRI), calling Israel's actions in Gaza a genocide on Monday. While global human rights bodies like Human Rights Watch and Amnesty International have been using genocide to describe Israel's actions in Gaza for several months now, the report marks the first time an Israeli organisation has formally used the word...Ben-Yair's remarks align with a growing number of former Israeli officials who have publicly criticised their country's conduct in Gaza. In May, former Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Olmert himself accused of overseeing war crimes during conflicts in Gaza and Lebanon in 2006 - described Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's government as a 'criminal gang'. He accused it of implementing starvation tactics in Gaza and warned that its actions risked amounting to ethnic cleansing. Writing in the Israeli daily Haaretz, Olmert stated: 'What we are doing in Gaza now is a war of devastation: indiscriminate, limitless, cruel and criminal killing of civilians.' Ben-Yair in 2022 said his country is an 'apartheid regime' and urged the international community to recognise this reality and hold Israel accountable.": https://www.middleeasteye.net/news/former-israeli-attorney-general-says-israel-c ommitting-genocide

- "'Only The Messiah Can Replace Netanyahu'" Says PM's Brother-In-Law" WHAT?!?

(Excerpts:) "In a rare and theologically charged interview, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's brother-in-law declared that no one but the prophesied Messiah son of David is fit to succeed him. The statement, made by renowned Bible scholar Dr. Hagai Ben-Artzi, has ignited fierce debate in Israel and beyond—especially amid escalating war in Gaza and growing international calls for Netanyahu's resignation. The remarks come as the Netanyahu government faces mounting pressure from within Israel over the handling of the Gaza war, the hostage crisis, and ongoing global investigations into alleged war crimes. But according to Ben-Artzi, critics of Netanyahu are 'manipulating humanitarian slogans' to conceal a political coup attempt—one, he warns, that defies not only strategic logic but divine destiny...the hostage issue is being weaponized as a political distraction...emerging schism in Israeli society—between those prioritizing humanitarianism and negotiation, and those advocating for uncompromising military and prophetic action...Ben-Artzi's framing of Netanyahu as a Messianic-level leader—irreplaceable until the arrival of a literal Messiah—raises profound concerns...This rhetoric appears to be laying the groundwork for a new form of Israeli nationalism—one that blends hardline Zionism with apocalyptic expectations, effectively making Netanyahu a placeholder for the prophesied deliverer. This could pave the way for a false messiah figure, as warned in Matthew 24 and Revelation 13...As international scrutiny intensifies and the Gaza war deepens, Netanyahu's inner circle appears more emboldened than ever—not just politically, but prophetically. The real question is: What kind of Messiah is being prepared for, and who will claim the throne when the smoke clears?"- Hmmm! Let's keep our Scripture measuring tapes at the Heb.4:12-ready at all times!:

- "Origins Of Medical Harm A swelling of profits is directly tied to the surge in chronic illness" - Exposes the Mammon Medikill Machine! (Excerpts:) "The Hippocratic Oath clarifies the priorities essential for the mindset of a physician. Despite its primary warning, first, do no harm, damage done to patients is rampant. Resolution of this tragic dynamic appears insoluble. When decisions are made by any medical organization with financial interests, the primary impetus of the Oath is lost... The following excerpt exposes how this inherently conflicted view of healthcare depends on the illness of the nation. 'Stripped to its core, medicine is a service industry, the product of which is health care. As such, the practice of medicine, not unlike the provision of any other service, is deserving of professional remuneration. Viewed in this light, medicine and money are sensibly interrelated and by extension indivisible. Less clarity exists, however, about the question of whether medicine should be a conduit to wealth accumulation' The industry couldn't be clearer about its relationship to money. The giant leap from fair compensation to wealth accumulation is easily appraised and confirmed; a swelling of profits is directly tied to the surge in chronic illness. The degradation of individual and societal health spirals downward while the most powerful controllers of the medical and pharmaceutical industries thrive. The healthcare system is fatally compromised by its financial standards and practices. As long as poor health is monetized, the crisis will remain unresolved...Practicing medicine is most effective as a selfless endeavor; the healing arts thrive when extricated from material preoccupations." - For the Great Physician said, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." • "You've been Conned: Polio was Redefined, Making the Vaccine Look Effective - 'Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.' (Psalm 34:13)"

(Excerpts:) "In 1955, right after the [polio] vaccination program got under way, they radically redefined the diagnostic parameters of polio, followed soon thereafter by changes in labeling protocol, then by even more stringent technical requirements for a polio diagnosis. In short, they ultimately redefined not the disease, but the label, out of existence. That's not disease eradication, that's a con game.' — Shawn Siegel...But, it gets worse. Further cultivating the perception that the polio vaccine was effective, the definition of a polio epidemic was changed...We have been deceived about polio vaccines. They did not wipe out polio, as we are so often told. Rather, the pen wiped out polio; that is, with the stroke of the pen, polio and polio epidemics were redefined — most conveniently giving the appearance that polio vaccines vanguished polio. Moreover, polio vaccines (like all vaccines in general) have been the source of much pain and misery. While people take on good faith that they are 'safe and effective', the polio vaccine instead poisons the bloodstream of its recipients, resulting in such horrors as paralytic polio itself, as well as cancer and other fatal ailments. And so while the polio vaccine is heralded (even worshiped) as a great savior from illness, it has in fact been a great contributor to death and suffering. By its own history of fraud and misery, it is not a foundational argument in favor of vaccines, but a foundational argument against vaccines. It discredits the vaccine-promoters as ignorant at best, to liars at worst — and shows the difficulty in trusting anything they say in favor of vaccines. As Scripture puts it: 'He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.' (Luke 16:10) As this article has shown, we must be careful not to naively accept whatever we are told about vaccines from the deceived, the brainwashed, and con artists. 'Fool me once, shame on you; fool me twice, shame on me.' Or, as Scripture says, 'A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished.' (Proverbs 22:3) In being used to promote vaccines in general, the polio vaccine scam has contributed to perhaps the greatest holocaust of children after abortion. When it comes to vaccines, doing our own research is a life or death matter; it is taking seriously the Sixth and Ninth Commandments.":

Make no mistake about it: The Epstein pedophile network and the Israeli genocidal wars in the Middle East are indissolubly linked. The reason the ruling class in Washington, D.C., and New York City are so determined to support Israel no matter how demonic its actions might be is directly due to Epstein's (the Mossad's) blackmail campaigns. And the members of Congress that are not blackmailed into submission by the Mossad are bribed into submission by AIPAC. Americans put Trump in office because they saw the filth and corruption of Washington, and they thought Trump was truly different. - "'No innocents in Gaza': Israeli minister denies famine amid rising starvation deaths" - Isahellian Insanity on Steroids!

(Excerpts:) "An Israeli minister has rejected reports of famine in Gaza, contradicting UN agencies that warn the territory faces starvation under Israel's genocidal aid blockade. 'There is no famine. There is no humanitarian disaster. And according to the [captives'] testimonies – there are also no innocents or uninvolved people,' Israeli minister Miri Regev wrote in a post on her X account on Thursday. Posting The New York Times front page photo showing a Gazan woman cradling her malnourished child, she claimed, 'We are not waiting for an apology, not from the New York Times, not from 'Haaretz,' and not from the hundreds of media outlets that echoed the lie of famine in Gaza.' Israeli prime minister Benjamin Netanyahu previously echoed similar assertions, denying any starvations in Gaza. 'There is no policy of starvation in Gaza, and there is no starvation in Gaza. We enable humanitarian aid throughout the duration of the war to enter Gaza – otherwise, there would be no Gazans,' he claimed. This comes as UN agencies have said Gaza is currently on the brink of famine, due to the Israeli-imposed blockade on aid. On Tuesday, the World Food Programme, UNICEF, and the Food and Agriculture Organization warned that 'time was running out' and Gaza stood 'on the brink of a full-scale famine'.": https://www.presstv.ir/Detail/2025/07/31/752208/%E2%80%98No-innocents-in-G aza%E2%80%99--Israeli-minister-denies-famine-amid-rising-starvation-deaths

> No Comment from Peter G. on CBDCs and Stablecoins:

With the introduction of CBDCs, it's important to understand the difference between them and stablecoins, as they are very different beasts.

Forbes Magazine describes the distinction as: "CBDCs, issued by central banks, emphasize public trust, regulatory oversight, and support for national monetary systems. Privately issued stablecoins offer speed, global access and flexibility, making them well-suited for cross-border payments and blockchain-based applications."

In other words, CBDCs come with government/Federal Reserve control with the ability to monitor, intervene and come with the ability to cancel your transaction at any given time. Not fun!

Conversely, stablecoins are decentralized and run freely on blockchain ecosystems.

However, in the case of USDTs, which is the most popular stablecoin, it is owned and run by Tether, which is privately owned and operated by iFinex Inc.

It's a little unclear as to who owns iFinex, since they are registered in the Virgin Islands, but they are based in Hong Kong, China.

This is indeed concerning, in that Tether holds $131B of US treasuries, which is a massive stake in the American pie that is in the hands of a private, non-US company.

A complex story, but part of a global, privatization movement controlling huge sums and pulling big strings!

And yet, what is most significant historically is perhaps not what stands on top of the earth, but what lies beneath it. There, in a fortress-like bunker, closed to the public and protected by armed guards, lies an incredible 53 miles of shelving – more than 100 times the distance from one side of Vatican City to the other, dug deep into the earth. On these shelves sit 12 centuries' worth of documents, and unmatched history not just of the Catholic church, but of the world as we know it. This is the Vatican Secret Archive, and hidden within it are the original recordings of some of history's most important and well-known events. Now he's gone — unexpectedly. And yet again, we are told nothing about: X His cause of death X His health status X Whether his passing could be related to the very products he promoted...It turned out, those 'vaccines' did not protect people from catching the sickness, did NOT prevent the infected from spreading it to other people, did NOT reduce symptoms of those who got sick, and did NOT reduce the number of deaths in those who got sick. All-in-all, the vaccines did NOT do ANY of the things we were told they would do. Now, however, teenagers are having heart attacks on high school or college athletic fields, the thirty-somethings are seeing horrifying numbers of cancer cases, women who get pregnant, are losing the babies to miscarriage, an enormous slew of people cannot seem to think clearly anymore, morticians are reporting strange rubbery 'clots' throughout the dead bodies they embalm, and the birth rate in entire nations are now reduced to population-loss levels. (Excerpts:) "The government's war on homelessness—much like its war on terrorism, its war on drugs, its war on illegal immigration, and its war on COVID-19—is yet another Trojan Horse. First, President Trump issues an executive order empowering federal agencies to clear out homeless encampments and lock up the homeless in mental institutions using involuntary civil commitment laws intended for dealing with individuals experiencing mental health crises. Days later, a gunman allegedly suffering from a mental illness opens fire in New York City, killing four before turning the gun on himself. Coming on the heels of Trump's executive order aimed at 'ending crime and disorder on America's streets', the shooting has all the makings of a modern-day Reichstag fire: a tragedy weaponized to justify allowing the government use mental illness as a pretext for locking more people up without due process...What happens when these criteria are expanded to encompass anyone who challenges the police state's narrative? Once the government is allowed to control the narrative over who is deemed mentally unfit, mental health care could become yet another pretext for pathologizing dissent in order to disarm and silence the government's critics. Take heed: this has the potential to become the next phase of the government's war on thought crimes, cloaked in the guise of public health and safety...This is not about public safety. It's about control. We've seen this tactic before. When governments seek to suppress dissent without provoking outrage, they turn to psychiatric labels...The government's ability to silence dissent by labeling it as dangerous or diseased is well documented—and now it's about to be codified into law...The same police state that considers you suspicious based on your religion...that now wants access to your mental health data, your digital footprint, your biometric records—and the legal authority to detain you for your own good. And it's the same police state that, facing rising protests, unrest, and collapsing public trust, is seeking new ways to suppress dissent—not through open force, but under the cover of public health. > I "Quick Take: Global 'Age Verification' Rollout Has Normies Noticing" (Excerpts:) "We covered the UK's Online Safety Act Age Verification clause going live earlier this week. We've also covered the fact the UK is far from alone in this. Australia launched their 'social media ban'...The EU has given tech firms 12 months to enforce 'strict' age verification measures and is testing their own app across five nations as we speak. Mexico, Ireland, Canada and at least 27 of the 50 US states...they're all coming to the party. And it's not just countries, now companies are doing it off their own bat. YouTube announced only yesterday that they would be implementing 'age verification' for US-based users... The age verification rollout just keeps going and going and going. The reaction to this — both in the UK and around the world — has been rather encouraging: Everybody hates it... More than just hating, a lot of people seem to be noticing... If this real and organic awakening, as we saw in during Covid, then something is going to have to change. The 'think of the children!' defence, in which you simply accuse anyone criticizing the act of being a peadophile (as exemplified in this tweet from British MP Peter Kyle), isn't going to cut it... The media approach, discussing the global rollout of age verification as if it was always inevitable and is now a fait accompli...probably won't work either. - The US government being put under control by a privately owned company makes perfect sense, once you realise that the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA is a privately owned corporation owned by the Bank of England. It has been so since 1871 when the Act of 1871 was passed, which redefined the former country as such (through a few small but extremely significant alterations to the constitution). This was followed by establishment of a privately owned government for this corporation, the Federal Reserve and its board, in 1913. Since then, that has been the true US government, puppeteering and manipulating the theatrical feux-democratic governance. In that light, the "government" contracting a private company to install AI throughout its departments and agencies makes perfect sense. The owners are installing AI to tighten control and monitoring of the massive and perilous theater production of republic and democracy they've been running for over a century.

• "JD Vance, UFOs, and the Shadow of the Epstein Files: A Tale of Distraction and Control - is this UFO obsession a deliberate distraction from unresolved terrestrial scandals?"

(Excerpts:) "By championing UFO transparency, he taps into a zeitgeist of skepticism toward government secrecy, but critics argue this could be a strategic move to divert attention elsewhere...Enter the fast-paced news cycle, a machine that thrives on novelty and buries yesterday's outrage under today's sensation. Just as the Epstein controversy flared anew, Vance's UFO rhetoric took center stage, effectively sidelining demands for accountability. This timing is no accident, skeptics say. The government has a playbook for distraction...The timing of the UFO resurgence isn't random—it's conditioning. The government has spent decades shaping public perception, from ridicule to reluctant admission, setting the stage for a grander play. Enter the specter of a fake alien invasion or Project Blue Beam, a conspiracy theory alleging that advanced technology (think holograms) could simulate an extraterrestrial threat. Proposed by journalist Serge Monast in the 1990s, Project Blue Beam envisions this ruse as a means to usher in a totalitarian regime, with humanity uniting against a fabricated enemy and ceding freedoms in the process. Dismissed by many as outlandish, the theory's premise isn't without precedent. History is rife with false flags—staged events to justify control. A faux alien invasion would leverage decades of UFO fascination, amplified by Hollywood and media, to rally the globe under a security state banner. War, surveillance, and power consolidation could follow, all sold as protection from 'the other'. Vance's UFO probe, however genuine, fits neatly into this framework. By legitimizing the topic, he primes the pump for a narrative the government might exploit later... If a staged invasion ever materialized, it'd be the ultimate sleight of hand—war and security measures cloaked as cosmic necessity. Vance's role, intentional or not, amplifies this possibility. His investigation could unearth truth, or it could pave the way for deception. Either way, the public remains a pawn in a game where UFOs and Epstein alike serve the same end: preserving power.":

This confirms what is posted in this KU on 2 August, regarding ChatGPT's admission that children are being specifically targeted!—Through "Media, schools, tech, abuse"! Satan's gloves are off and his claws are way out! Spread this vid far and wide and raise the alarm that it's now open season on harm at any and every level! It's no laughing matter!—It's a Luciferian matter! Here are some excerpts, but I beg you to please read this item (not long) in full!! (Excerpts:) "It's a trend that's been hard to ignore. Videos are circulating across the internet of young children visibly recoiling, panicking, or even sobbing when exposed to Amazon Alexa, Google Assistant, or other synthetic voice devices. While some parents chuckle and dismiss it as childhood imagination, others are starting to ask the deeper question: What are these kids actually hearing—or sensing—that we're not? This isn't just about quirky behavior. It could be an instinctual, neurological, and even spiritual response to something fundamentally wrong in our environment. And the science, technology, and historical patterns support that...Smart Devices Emit Ultrasonic Frequencies Adults Can't Hear -Most people don't realize that voice assistants like Alexa and Google Home use ultrasonic pulses to map their environment and detect presence. These are high-frequency chirps—often over 20,000 Hz—inaudible to adult ears but well within the range of young children. Why is this important? Children under 8 years old can hear up to 25–28 kHz, sometimes higher...smart devices may constantly emit inaudible signals that could cause children discomfort, disorientation, or stress—without us even knowing it...These devices pulse signals 24/7, even in 'standby' mode. That means your child's body and brain are never truly resting in their own home...Children rely heavily on these unspoken cues to interpret safety, trust, and intent. Exposure to Al voices—especially those embedded in surveillance devices—could interrupt healthy emotional development...Many adults dismiss the idea that kids might 'sense something off' in an Al voice. But neuroscience tells us that human brains are finely tuned to detect anomalies in tone, rhythm, and inflection. What's wrong with AI speech? It mimics human expression but lacks true emotional feedback. It follows algorithmic speech patterns, not organic ones. There's often a cold precision in pacing that feels unnatural. This is known as the uncanny valley effect—where something is close to human, but just wrong enough to cause unease. Children, who haven't yet dulled their intuition, react to this far more strongly than adults. Some kids scream. Some cry. Others drop to the ground as seen in viral videos—literally trying to hide from the machine voice...it's widely believed that children are still open to the unseen—to energies, intentions, spirits, and subtle frequencies that adults ignore or suppress...Devices like Alexa, designed to constantly listen, may give off the sense of surveillance or non-human presence. Combine that with the voice of a disembodied entity—and a child's fight-or-flight instincts may kick in. To a child. Alexa might not feel like a tool—it might feel like a watcher...These videos going viral may be the last cry from human instinct before the next generation adapts and forgets what real human resonance feels like. The question isn't just: 'Why are these kids afraid of Alexa?' The question is: 'Why aren't we?' While adults have been conditioned to ignore intuition, desensitized to microwave radiation, and amused by AI, children haven't been programmed yet. Their raw reactions may be showing us a hidden war we can't hear—but they can feel. This is not just a funny trend. It's a warning. Don't ignore it...These children aren't malfunctioning. They're responding to something unnatural. And maybe, just maybe, they're the only ones still sane. Stay Aware, Be Prepared.":

Symptoms include compulsive scrolling—even during the night—resulting in disrupted sleep and exhaustion. Other signs include withdrawal from social interactions, loss of interest in offline activities, and difficulty concentrating without screen stimulation.
