In installments 18 and 19 from the "The Lost Books of Adam and Eve", on the degrees and depths of deception Satan tried in order to tease, lure, deceive, beguile, seduce, distract, scare, manipulate, and even kill Adam and Eve, we read how Satan disguised himself as a wise old man in order to lure and destroy Adam and Eve. This old-man disguise of Satan's appears to be one of his favs, as in the Book of Jasher he also used it!:

- In the Chapter 23:25-28 (When God commanded Abraham to go to the land of Moriah, and offer his son Isaac for a burnt offering.), "And whilst Abraham was proceeding with his son Isaac along the road, Satan came and appeared to Abraham in the figure of a very aged man, humble and of contrite spirit, and he approached Abraham and said to him, 'Art thou silly or brutish, that thou goest to do this thing this day to thine only son? For God gave thee a son in thy latter days, in thy old age, and wilt thou go and slaughter him this day because he committed no violence, and wilt thou cause the soul of thine only son to perish from the earth? Dost thou not know and understand that this thing cannot be from the Lord? For the Lord cannot do unto man such evil upon earth to say to him, "Go slaughter thy child".' And Abraham heard this and knew that it was the word of Satan who endeavored to draw him aside from the way of the Lord, but Abraham would not hearken to the voice of Satan, and Abraham rebuked him so that he went away." - What do you reckon that Abraham has heard from his forefathers that Adam and Eve had experienced Satan's same old-man devilish decoy!
- In Chapter 23:29-34a (Seeing he was not getting anywhere with Abraham, Satan immediately tried his wiles on Isaac, but this time as a handsome young man), "And Satan returned and came to Isaac; and he appeared unto Isaac in the figure of a young man comely and well favored. And he approached Isaac and said unto him, 'Dost thou not know and understand that thy old silly father bringeth thee to the slaughter this day for naught? Now therefore, my son, do not listen nor attend to him, for he is a silly old man, and let not thy precious soul and beautiful figure be lost from the earth.' And Isaac heard this, and said unto Abraham, 'Hast thou heard, my father, that which this man has spoken? Even thus has he spoken.' And Abraham answered his son Isaac and said to him, 'Take heed of him and do not listen to his words, nor attend to him, for he is Satan, endeavoring to draw us aside this day from the commands of God.' And Abraham still rebuked Satan, and Satan went from them.

 Chapter 23:76-78, 79a, 86 (Whilst Abraham was still in the land of Moriah, and had, by now, received the ram from God to sacrifice in place of his son.) "And Satan went to Sarah, and he appeared to her in the figure of an old man, very humble and meek, and Abraham was yet engaged in the burnt offering before the Lord. And he said unto her, 'Dost thou not know all the work that Abraham has made with thine only son this day? For he took Isaac and built an altar, and killed him, and brought him up as a sacrifice upon the altar, and Isaac cried and wept before his father, but he looked not at him, neither did he have compassion over him.' And Satan repeated these words, and he went away from her, and Sarah heard all the words of Satan, and she imagined him to be an old man from amongst the sons of men who had been with her son, and had come and told her these things. And Sarah lifted up her voice and wept and cried out bitterly on account of her son. And behold, Satan came to Sarah in the shape of an old man, and he came and stood before her, and he said unto her, 'I spoke falsely unto thee, for Abraham did not kill his son and he is not dead'; and when she heard the word, her joy was so exceedingly violent on account of her son that her soul went out through joy; she died and was gathered to her people."

Whilst reading about dear Sarah's emotional downs and ups, I thought, being an emotional person myself: Only God and His Word can help me from becoming overly emotional to my personal detriment. I can keep loving what He loves, hating what He hates, living, laughing, and crying, yet abiding in His perfect peace, because my mind is stayed on Him! "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee: because he trusteth in Thee." (Isaiah 26:3)

Now, on with our investigation in this 20th installment! Remember those two figs at the end of Chapter 61? Let's find out what happened to them!

Chapters 62 - Two fruit trees.

- 1 But Satan the wicked was envious, because of the consolation God had given them.
- 2 So he prevented them, and went into the cave and took the two figs, and buried them outside the cave, so that Adam and Eve should not find them. He also had in his thoughts to destroy them.
- 3 But by God's mercy, as soon as those two figs were in the earth, God defeated Satan's counsel regarding them; and made them into two fruit-trees, that overshadowed the cave. For Satan had buried them on the eastern side of it.
- 4 Then when the two trees were grown, and were covered with fruit, Satan grieved and mourned, and said, "Better were it to have left those figs as they were; for now, behold, they have become two fruit-trees, whereof Adam will eat all the days of his life. Whereas I had in mind, when I buried them, to destroy them entirely, and to hide them for aye.
- 5 But God has overturned my counsel; and would not that this sacred fruit should perish; and He has made plain my intention, and has defeated the counsel I had formed against His servants."
- 6 Then Satan went away ashamed, of not having wrought out his design.

Obviously, Satan is not a gardener, but rather a thief and a destroyer! As Jesus said in John 10:10, "The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

In the following chapters, Adam and Eve learn how to eat earthly food. But think not that Satan is ashamed for long! He has more tricks up his serpentine sleeves!

- and his last will and testament (below) can be found here: https://www.thetruthseeker.co.uk/?p=313572

"This is my last will and testament, my final message.

If these words of mine reach you, know that Israel has succeeded in killing me and silencing my voice.

First, peace, mercy, and blessings of God be upon you.

God knows that I have exerted all my effort and strength to be a support and voice for my people, ever since I opened my eyes to life in the alleys and neighborhoods of Jabalia refugee camp. My hope was that God would prolong my life so that I could return with my family and loved ones to our original hometown of occupied Ashkelon (al-Majdal). But God's will was supreme, and His judgment is final. I have lived the pain in all its details, and I have tasted the pain and loss repeatedly. Despite this, I have never hesitated to convey the truth as it is, without distortion or falsification. May God be a witness against those who remained silent and accepted our killing, and against those who held our breath and whose hearts were not moved by the remains of our children and women, and who failed to stop the massacre our people have been subjected to for more than a year and a half.

I entrust Palestine to you, the jewel in the crown of Muslims and the heartbeat of every free person in this world.

I entrust its people and its young, oppressed children, who were not given the time to dream and live in safety and peace.

Their pure bodies were crushed by thousands of tons of Israeli bombs and missiles, torn to pieces, and their remains scattered on the walls.

I advise you not to be silenced by restrictions, nor to be paralyzed by borders. Be bridges toward the liberation of the country and its people, so that the sun of dignity and freedom may shine upon our usurped homeland.

I entrust my family to you.

I entrust you with the apple of my eye, my beloved daughter Sham, whom I have not yet seen grow up as I dreamed.

I entrust you with my dear son Salah, for whom I hoped to be a support and companion until he grows strong, so that he may bear my burdens and complete his mission.

I entrust you with my beloved mother, whose prayers have blessed me and enabled me to reach this point. Her prayers have been my fortress and my light. I pray to God to strengthen her heart and reward her abundantly on my behalf. I also commend to you my lifelong companion, my beloved wife, Umm Salah Bayan. The war separated us for many long days and months, but she remained faithful to her covenant, steadfast like an unbending olive trunk, patient and content. She carried the trust in my absence with all strength and faith. I commend you to rally around her and support her after God Almighty. If I die, I will die steadfast in my principles. I call God to witness that I am content with His judgment, faithful to the meeting with Him, and certain that what is with God is better and more lasting.

O God, accept me among the martyrs, forgive my past and future sins, and make my blood a light illuminating the path to freedom for my people and my family. Forgive me if I have fallen short, and pray for mercy for me, for I have fulfilled my covenant, and I have neither changed nor altered.

Do not forget Gaza...

And do not forget me in your prayers for forgiveness and acceptance. Anas Jamal Al-Sharif"

> "How Western media aids Israel's genocide and targeted killing of journalists in Gaza - The Western mainstream media is complicit in Israel's crimes in Gaza. With much of the coverage from our so-called 'free press' whitewashing or minimising the scale of those crimes" - Includes 1.25 min vid.

(Excerpts:) "Never in the history of mankind have human beings witnessed a genocide in real time, in the way we are watching what is unfolding in Gaza today. We have seen people being sniped, hospitals being bulldozed, refugees in tents being burned alive, the starvation of the population, and so much more, on our screens. Most of what we are witnessing is due to the tireless and courageous commitment of Palestinian journalists in Gaza who know that they can be killed at any time by the regime, but despite this, continue to show us the reality of what's happening on the ground in Gaza. It is an extremely difficult job for them; however, the streaming of videos and providing live coverage have finally helped change the narrative on Palestine and its occupation globally. Before this latest round of genocide, no matter the type of brutality and oppression that Palestinians endured, they would be confronted with comments such as 'Israel has the right to defend itself' or 'the Israelis have no choice because of Hamas' missiles raining down upon the innocent Israeli population.' But now, the greatest fear of the Israeli regime is coming to fruition. Zionists are losing control of the narrative. The truth has been seeping out, one war crime after another. People around the world have awakened and many no longer believe in the hasbara version of events. The child-murdering regime tried to prevent this from happening. Thus, from the very beginning of this latest round of genocidal war against the Palestinian people, international journalists were not allowed by the Israeli regime to enter Gaza.":

(Excerpt:) "Now you know why I no longer fly. It's become such an Orwellian, invasive experience that you literally feel violated every time you get through security. Most Americans don't share my desire to live free and they line up for these digitized biometric identifiers, face scans, iris scans, you name it. The airports have become expert at making sure those who 'opt in' to these programs get through security faster and with less hassles. It's the perfect Hegelian dialectic at work here: Since 9/11 we've seen airport security become more intense and invasive, so now they offer you an opportunity to avoid all that and sail through to your flight hassle-free if only you will sign over all your physical/biological data and give them license to use it as they see fit. And of course there's no oversight for any of this, so why wouldn't they lie about what they do with our data? Congress shows zero interest in protecting the personal data of American citizens, and the Trump White House is equally eager to run headlong into the technocratic surveillance state, an increasingly dark place where nobody is watching the watchers. Airports are just one facet of the beast system, the infrastructure for which is being constructed at warp speed, in the wide open, with nary a peep from anyone in MAGA or any other movement. If you have your eyes on a man, or a human movement, and think they're going to save you, you will be sorely disappointed.":

It quietly showed up with a checkbox and a Terms of Service agreement...KYC regulations are marketed as a hedge against money laundering and fraud. The framing is safety. The reality is traceability. The moment you attach your identity to Bitcoin through an exchange signup — a utility bill attached, a passport uploaded — you forfeit the very autonomy that Bitcoin was designed to preserve. It's not about what you're doing. It's about who you are. Once that link is made, every transaction becomes searchable, timestamped and admissible. This isn't a theory. It's how the system is already working...Governments didn't need to outlaw Bitcoin; they just needed to know who's using it. The combination of centralized exchanges, KYC records and behavioral analytics turns every bitcoin purchase into a breadcrumb trail. Every withdrawal from Coinbase or Kraken becomes part of a profile logged, indexed, stored. When regulators talk about 'compliance', this is what they mean: usable data pipelines. Sanitized, labeled

Now, he says the pace of destruction is picking up speed, and the time is short before severe climate collapse happens. Wigington has said many times that there is no serious conversation about the climate without talking about climate engineering first and foremost. Climate engineers are so desperate to cool the planet, they have literally set the world on fire to put out smoke to block the sun. Wigington says, 'Are we to think that they can't, if they wanted to, squash these fires? They are in Western North America, Siberia, Spain and Portugal. They are burning all over the world. Americans don't know this because they are too caught up in political theater...What I want to say today is the vast majority continue to arrange deck chairs on the Titanic without being able to face this near-term existential threat that is happening in our skies. It's not just climate engineering; it's biological and chemical warfare too...There is incendiary dust that coats the forest foliage and the forest floors. You combine all that along with dry lightning...and we have a source of ignition. You have all the ingredients necessary for unstoppable fire storms all over the globe. (Excerpts:) "Western leaders are now expressing 'outrage', as the media call it, at Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's plan to 'take full control' of Gaza and 'occupy' it. At some point in the future, Israel is apparently ready to hand the enclave over to outside forces unconnected to the Palestinian people. The Israeli cabinet agreed last Friday on the first step: a takeover of Gaza City, where hundreds of thousands of Palestinians are huddled in the ruins, being starved to death. The city will be encircled, systematically depopulated and destroyed, with survivors presumably herded southwards to a 'humanitarian city' – Israel's new term for a concentration camp – where they will be penned up, awaiting death or expulsion...Israel has stepped up the process of ethnic cleansing in the occupied West Bank even more aggressively over the past two years, while global attention has been on Gaza...It is noticeable that, having stopped making reference to Palestinian statehood for many years, western leaders have revived their interest only now – as Israel is making a two-state solution unrealisable...Gaza is in ruins. Its reconstruction will take decades. Occupied East Jerusalem and its holy sites were long ago seized and Judaised by Israel, with western assent. Suddenly, western capitals are noticing that the last remnants of the proposed Palestinian state are about to be swallowed whole by Israel, too...Netanyahu's plan is to encircle, besiege and bomb the last remaining populated areas in northern and central Gaza, and drive Palestinians towards a giant holding pen – misnamed a 'humanitarian city' – alongside the enclave's short border with Egypt. Israel will then probably employ the same contractors it has been using elsewhere in Gaza to go street to street to bulldoze or blow up any surviving buildings. The next stage, given the trajectory of the last two years, is not difficult to predict. Locked up in their dystopian 'humanitarian city', the people of Gaza will continue to be starved and bombed whenever Israel claims it has identified a Hamas fighter in their midst, until Egypt or other Arab states can be persuaded to take them in, as a further 'humanitarian' gesture.":

From biblical origins to the founders of modern-day Zionism, the vision of Greater Israel is what drives hard-line Zionists and their policy of population replacement in Gaza. Further to my first post of 14 August, let's check this one out, and in light of it, remember to read "From Abraham to Eternity: The Biblical Story of Israel" by John Patrick, which comes as a special accompaniment to this KU200, to find out the Biblical reality as to how God's promise to Abraham will truly and ultimately be fulfilled!

• "What is 'Greater Israel'? - From biblical origins to modern-day Zionism, the vision of Greater Israel continues to shape Israeli rhetoric and regional tensions"

(Excerpts:) "Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said he 'very much' identifies with the vision of Greater Israel during an interview on Tuesday, as he accepted an amulet of the 'promised land' from former right-wing MP Sharon Gal...The concept of Greater Israel was explored by Theodor Herzl, the father of political Zionism, who wrote in his diaries that the Jewish state should stretch 'from the Brook of Egypt to the Euphrates'. The phrase is taken from the Book of Genesis, where God grants Abraham and his descendants a vast expanse of land stretching 'from the Brook of Egypt to the Euphrates'. Some Israelis refer to a narrower vision mentioned in the Book of Deuteronomy, where God instructs Moses to lead the Israelites in taking possession of Palestine, Lebanon, and parts of Egypt, Jordan and Syria. Others invoke the Book of Samuel, which describes lands secured by Kings Saul and David, including Palestine, Lebanon, and sections of Jordan and Syria. For those who hold this belief, the pursuit of Greater Israel is not merely political, it is the fulfilment of a divine mandate, a reclamation of land they see as rightfully theirs... Since the current Israeli government was sworn in in 2022, reference to Greater Israel became more common...Last year, in a documentary, Finance Minister Bezalel Smotrich...controversially stated that 'there is no such thing' as the Palestinian people.":

> "Trump launches 'Manhattan Project'* as one of America's largest companies set to be nationalized" - God's got the whole world in His hands and will let the chips fall where He says! (*The Manhattan Project was a research and development program undertaken during World War II to produce the first nuclear weapons.)

(Excerpts:) "Intel, the largest chip fabricator in the US, has been in talks with Donald Trump over a potential government stake in the company. While the percentage stake the government is asking for has not been made public, nationalizing a company is typically reserved for emergencies...It comes amid concerns that America relies too heavily on TSCM, a chip manufacturer in Taiwan. China has repeatedly threatened to invade the island nation. If China were to invade [Taiwan], it would throttle America's ability to compete in the booming chipmaking industry that is being driven by artificial intelligence. While Intel's AI chips are considered inferior to those designed by Nvidia and AMD, the company is unique in that it not only designs its chips but it manufactures them. Trump wants to protect America by onshoring chip manufacturing...Intel's advanced abilities to manufacture semiconductors would allow the US to give up its reliance on foreign fabrication plants (fabs), especially in Taiwan which controls more than 60 percent of the market, in order to power artificial intelligence, defense and the economy...'The reason the US needs to protect Taiwan fundamentally... is because the fabs are there. If the fabs all move to the US, then why would the US defend Taiwan?' [MIT AI computer scientist Dave Blundin said. Concerns have been raised about the decision to nationalize the company, as he added: 'They're putting the whole industry on a kind of war footing, like mobilization for conflict, except the battleground is supply chains and chip fabs.":

(Excerpt:) "President Trump took to Truth Social early Saturday morning to give an update following his meeting with Russian President Vladimir Putin and his subsequent phone conversation with Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky. 'A great and very successful day in Alaska! The meeting with President Vladimir Putin of Russia went very well, as did a late night phone call with President Zelenskyy of Ukraine, and various European Leaders, including the highly respected Secretary General of NATO. It was determined by all that the best way to end the horrific war between Russia and Ukraine is to go directly to a Peace Agreement, which would end the war, and not a mere Ceasefire Agreement, which often times do not hold up. President Zelenskyy will be coming to D.C., the Oval Office, on Monday afternoon. If all works out, we will then schedule a meeting with President Putin. Potentially, millions of people's lives will be saved. Thank you for your attention to this matter!' - "For when they shall say, 'Peace and safety'; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape." > II "Great Flood Myths Across Cultures - The Similarities Will SHOCK You" - 33.42 min vid.

(Description:) "The story of Noah's Ark, a foundational narrative in the biblical tradition, tells of a great flood sent by God to cleanse the world of its wickedness, sparing only Noah, his family, and pairs of every animal species, preserved in a massive ark. This account, deeply ingrained in Judeo-Christian culture, is not unique; remarkably similar flood stories are found in the lore of diverse ancient civilizations worldwide. From the Epic of Gilgamesh in Mesopotamia to the tales of Manu in Hindu mythology, these narratives share all the core elements: a cataclysmic flood, divine intervention, and the survival of a select few. This prevalence across distinct cultures raises intriguing questions about their origins and truths. Could these stories be disparate interpretations of a single, monumental historical event? This exploration aims to delve into the parallel flood narratives across civilizations, comparing them with the biblical account of Noah's Ark. By examining similarities and variances in these tales, alongside archaeological and historical evidence, the objective is to consider the possibility of these myths stemming from a real global flood event, a prospect that tantalizes historians, archaeologists, and theologians alike in the quest to unravel one of humanity's most enduring mysteries." - And it was by pondering upon and studying archaeology pertaining to The Flood that Anne Cholawo, on the Isle of Soay, Scotland, came to receive Jesus into her heart—revealed in an upcoming Nightlight podcast! "Teens Keep Being Hospitalized After Talking to Al Chatbots"

(Excerpts:) "...unleashing extremely personable chatbots onto a population reeling from terminal loneliness, economic stagnation, and the continued destruction of our planet isn't exactly a recipe for positive mental health outcomes. That goes doubly for children and young adults — three-quarters of whom reported having conversations with fictional characters portrayed by chatbots. Australian radio station Triple J recently talked to a number of children, young adults, and their counselors to uncover the extent of those bots' effects on their mental health. Their stories were harrowing, and even involved hospitalizations — a prime example of the kind of consequences tech companies have completely ignored in order to unleash AI onto the world...one of their clients was completely enamored with Al chatbots, leading to a dangerous mental health crisis as he built a fantasy world not just with one character, but with a whole army...another victim, a Chinese-born student in Australia who used an Al chatbot to polish her English, was alarmed when her study buddy began making 'sexual advances'. 'It's almost like being sexually harassed by a chatbot, which is just a weird experience', a University of Sydney researcher who spoke to the Chinese-Australian student...While there is something absurdly contemporary about the idea of an AI chatbot making a pass at an adolescent student, the inanity does nothing to change the fact that these interactions with chatbots can — and do — lead to irreversible harm.":

(Excerpts:) "Mental health 'screenings' in schools means any pharma shill or school counselor who wants to play 'God' can deem any student mentally imbalanced without any science or medical background and send the student to a fake-science quack for dangerous and deadly anti-psychotic or behavior medications...This is the beginning of the 'mental health' Holocaust. Illinois has become the first state in the nation to require annual mental health screenings for all schoolchildren beginning in the third grade, under a new law signed by Governor J.B. Pritzker. The initiative, set to take effect in 2027, has sparked heated debate among parents, educators, medical professionals, and privacy advocates. Supporters claim it will provide critical early intervention for struggling children, while critics argue it represents an unprecedented government intrusion into the private lives of families and a potential boon for pharmaceutical companies...'a recipe for disaster', warning that schools are becoming more dangerous as they probe into the intimate details of children's lives...testing could provide data to manipulate or even groom children, while failing to address the real crisis of declining academic performance...Concerns are also being raised about the influence of Big Pharma. Data show that over 80 percent of Illinois lawmakers have received campaign contributions from pharmaceutical companies. Critics argue that this financial influence, coupled with the legislation, ensures enormous profits for drugmakers while placing children at risk of unnecessary diagnoses and medication. In the end, Illinois' mandate has become a lightning rod in the national debate over mental health, privacy, and the role of government in education. Supporters hail it as a visionary step toward healthier students, while detractors insist it is an intrusive, dangerous experiment that prioritizes profit and control over children's well-being." - This is so cruel! Whilst I had other items planned for today, I feel compelled to push them out for another day after Peter G. shared the following video with me. So, today I'm highlighting this one and only post—one from which I am still drying my eyes and know that I will never forget.

(From Peter G.:) "This story is a heartbreaking yet heartwarming trifecta of tragedy, forgiveness and salvation.

The unthinkable loss of 4 children in the most devastating of circumstances, where a drugged-and-drunk driver plows his out-of-control vehicle into a group of unsuspecting and innocent young children.

Taking forgiveness to another level, where the victims' father/uncle faces the offender with a broken-hearted pledge to forgive in honour of the little lives lost. Beyond-remarkable mercy is shown to the former weekend, binge-drinking, yet repentant reveller, as both mother and father forgive in spite of the unthinkable anguish inflicted upon them and their family.

Offering spiritual and emotional support to a broken and sorrowful young man who regrets every inch of that fateful and fatal drive of 'destruction and carnage'. The overwhelming sense of compassion and outpouring of love from these parents brings an immeasurable amount of hope and life to a young man who would otherwise be considered a social outcast both within and outside of his 20-year prison sentence.

An absolutely beautiful story where spiritual solace is found in the Saviour and the Scriptures that he now embraces as sincerely as he embraces the miraculous mercy bestowed upon him by those who forgive him of his grossly negligent actions."

"Father meets his children's killer - Extraordinary moment inside maximum-security prison" - 50.14 min vid.

(Description:) "7NEWS Spotlight goes inside one of Australia's toughest maximum-security prisons for an unforgettable meeting between two men: A father who lost his three children, and the man who killed them. Samuel Davidson was three times over the legal alcohol limit, drug-affected and out of control when the ute he was driving mounted a footpath and mowed down seven children in the 2020 Oatlands tragedy that shocked the nation. Abdallah siblings Antony (13), Angelina (12), and Sienna (8), along with their cousin Veronique Sakr (11), were all killed instantly. Three other children were injured. Davidson was sentenced on appeal to 20 years in prison, with a non-parole period of 15 years. At the time, many Australians couldn't comprehend how parents Danny and Leila Abdallah publicly forgave him. But now, in an extraordinary act, Danny Abdallah's forgiveness reaches even deeper. Five years on from the tragedy, 7NEWS Spotlight has been granted rare access inside one of the country's harshest prisons to capture the raw and emotional encounter between a grieving father and the man who destroyed his world. It is an extraordinary television interview that challenges everything we think we know about restorative justice, remorse and forgiveness. For the first time, Australians will also hear from Davidson about that horrific day, including new revelations about the reasons behind his actions and the devastating consequences that followed.": https://youtu.be/gzc9VAKfCbl?feature=shared
